Switching to Spectora

Switching home inspection software isn't an easy decision, especially for larger companies. Hear from Structure Tech, an enterprise-level home inspection firm, on why switching their entire company to Spectora was worth it.

EFFICIENCY WITH SPECTORA: "The ability to take photos on-site and immediately add them to the report is a big time saver. With our previous software, we would take all our photos on-site and build the report after the fact at home. That previous software was also not web-based, so we couldn't do so."

TIME SAVED PER INSPECTION WITH SPECTORA: "The hours saved will differ slightly since we're a multi-inspector company. I'd say the time savings is somewhere between one and three hours per inspection, depending on who you talk to."

LEARNING SPECTORA: "The learning curve is not steep at all and the software is very user-friendly."

CLIENT SATISFACTION WITH SPECTORA: "Feedback from clients has been very positive. We have had a number of repeat clients who saw our previous reports, and they prefer the look and feel of Spectora hands down."

CUSTOMER SUPPORT WITH SPECTORA: "The customer support is much better than the previous software. There is a concerted effort by the Spectora team to improve the products they provide continually."

Ready to make the switch? Visit https://next.spectora.com/join